PREFACE.

I know full well that this work comes far short of being a complete genealogical history. Only those who have undertaken a like labor, can know of its difficulties and disappointments.

The almost entire lack, throughout the country, of any complete system for the preservation of vital statistics, the want of knowledge, on the part of most men, of their family history, or of interest therein, are each important factors in accounting for these difficulties.

At the outset I hoped and believed I would be able to make a fairly complete record of all the Rexfords in the United States and in Canada

I believe now, I might have succeeded, if I had found a few more interested ones to aid me. Some have given me valuable assistance.

I comfort myself with the thought, that my labor has gathered for preservation, much history of the family that would have been lost with the lapse of a few years.

Many errors, or supposed errors, will be found in these pages; especially in dates. The opportunity, not to say necessity, for such errors, is great. I have found family records and town records differing in dates of births, marriages and deaths. I have often found members of a family at variance on dates respecting themselves, and that sometimes the family record does not agree with dates given on tombstones. The baptism of an infant, as entered on the books of the First Congregational Society of New Haven, by the officiating clergyman ante-dates the register of birth on the town books by thirteen days. In such cases I have taken the date that seemed to me, after careful examination, most likely to be the correct one.

I would be glad to give more of personal history than I have done. It may be noticed that, of my grandfather (3) Daniel and his brothers (3) William and (3) Joel and their descendants, I have oftener related matter of personal concern. I have done so for the simple reason that those incidents were known to me or were of easy attainment.

I invite correction of errors and solicit additional information for use in a subsequent edition if one is published.

For contents see the last page.

Arthur Rexford and His Children.

- 1 ARTHUR REXFORD and ELIZABETH STEVENS were m. at New Haven, Ct., September 3d, 1702, by John Alling, Justice.
He is mentioned several times in Colonial Records, the earliest date being 1702. The same records speak of him as Master of Sloop Rose as late as 1712. He died in New Haven, February 1st, 1728. A copy of his will is in the office of the Probate Court at New Haven. It bears date the day of his death. It directs his executors to dispose of his estate in England.

Vital Statistics records of New Haven show birth of his children as follows:

2 ARTHUR, b. July 13, 1703.

2 SARAH, b. Sept. 6, 1705. 1727 Arthur Rexford 3-6-1705

2 PHILLIP, b. June 19, 1708.

2 DANIEL, b. May 27, 1711.

There is no record of the birth of other children. Marriage statistics show that a daughter —

2 MARY, m. Nehemiah Hotchkiss Nov. 8, 1739, and

2 ELIZABETH, m. Amos Sherman, Feb. 11, 1742.

Children Naomi, b. March 15, 1740 41
 Nehemiah, b. Jan. 11, 1744 5
 Mary b. Jan. 20, 1746 7

Children:

2 Arthur Rexford and His Descendants.

- 2 ARTHUR s (1) Arthur, b. in New Haven, Ct., July 13, 1703 The Vital Statistics Records of Wallingford. Ct., show the following:
- 3 SAMUEL, s. of Arthur and Jemima Rexford, b. March 21, 1728.
- 3 ARTHUR, s. of Arthur and Jemima Rexford, b. May 4, 1730.
- 3 JOSEPH, s. of Arthur and Jemima Rexford, b. June 11, 1732.
- 3 JOHN, s. of Arthur and Jemima Rexford, b. June 1, 1734.
- 3 DANIEL, s. of Arthur and Jemima Rexford, b. Oct. 27, 1736.
- 3 BENJAMIN, s. of Arthur and Jemima Rexford, b. June 1, 1739.
- 3 ABIGAIL, dau. Arthur and Jemima Rexford, b. Aug. 20, 1741.
- 3 JEMIMA, dau. Arthur and Jemima Rexford, b. Jan. 2, 1747.

Wallingford, from its settlement in 1670, included Meriden as one of its parishes until 1806. The history of Meriden mentions Arthur Rexford being a member of a company organized in 1737 to prosecute a mining enterprise in said parish. The company was called the "Golden Parlour Mining Company." Evidently the projectors of this enterprise knew the value of an attractive name. I believe (2) Arthur and his sons, so long as any of them remained in Wallingford, lived within the bounds of the present Meriden. I have been told there is a farm in Meriden which at a time not very remote was called the Rexford farm. In 1757 he moved from Wallingford to Sharon, Ct. Sedgwick's history of Sharon says: "Arthur Rexford lived in Ellsworth and had four sons, Arthur, Joseph, Daniel and Benjamin." From this it is presumed that only these of his sons went with him to Sharon; or the historian may have known of his sons only from the record of his will. Ellsworth was in the township of Sharon. His will, dated July 29, 1771, gives to his sons, Arthur, Joseph, Daniel and Benjamin, and to his wife, Dinah. He died in Sharon, March 15, 1781. His wife, Jemima, died Nov. 19, 1770, "in the 70th year of her age."

3 SAMUEL, s. (2) Arthur, b. March 21, 1728, in Wallingford, Ct. All that I have learned regarding him is, that in 1749 he received land by deed in Wallingford, and that in 1757 he conveyed land in the same township. On Sept. 9, 1750, Samuel Rexford and wife united with the Congregational church of Meriden Parish, township of Wallingford. There was at this date no other Samuel Rexford of marriageable age.

3 ARTHUR, s. (2) Arthur, b. in Wallingford, Ct., May 4, 1730. He received land by deed in Farmington, Ct., Feb. 19, 1757, and conveyed April 28, 1762 and April 23, 1766. He is described as "of Farmington." April 7, 1766, Arthur of Sharon deeds to his son, Arthur of Farmington, the consideration being "love and affection." He died in Sharon, Feb. 25, 1797. His will, dated Aug. 28, 1792, and probated in Sharon, March 24, 1797, mentions wife Anna, daughters Prudence F. Page and Ann, and grandson Elihu Finney. He had a daughter Dinah. His tombstone stands in Ellsworth, district of Sharon. This public record concerning him is found:

"SHARON, 19 June, 1782.

"These may certify whom it may concern, that Arthur Rexford had "a cancer cut out of his left ear the day and date above written.

PR. SIMEON SMITH."

Such records were made in those days, when ears were slit by law in punishment of certain offenses, for protection of reputation against suspicion of crime committed.

3 JOSEPH, s. (2) Arthur, b. in Wallingford June 11, 1732.

I have learned but little of him, nor have I any direct line of his descendants. He went with or followed his father to Sharon. Land records in Sharon show purchases by Joseph in 1760 and 1761, and several deeds of conveyance to and sale by Joseph are recorded in the years 1790 to 1810. A Joseph of Sharon, doubtless a son or nephew of (3) Joseph, moved to Austerlitz, Columbia County, N. Y., in 1786. His descendants say he had brothers—Samuel, Edward, Lyman and William. A Joseph Rexford, described as "Yeoman of Manor of Rensselaerwyck," took a lease of land from Stephen Van Rensselaer Sept. 8, 1790. I think it probable that he was the same Joseph. The Austerlitz Joseph finally settled in the town of Otsego, Otsego Co., N. Y., and conveyed land there as early as in 1808. His will, dated Dec. 25, 1806, describes him as "of town and county of Otsego," and was probated in said county Sept. 13, 1815. It gives to Abigail, his wife; to his daughters, Elizabeth Welch and Lydia Converse, and to his sons, Ensign Joseph, John and Jesse. There was a son Jared. Ensign and Jared died in Otsego Co., and some of their descendants are still there.

JOHN S. REXFORD, Physician, took land by deed in the town and county of Otsego July 1st, 1800, and on Aug. 15, 1800, he conveyed. He is called John S in deed but signed John Rexford. It is presumed he was John, son of Joseph, who (John) is said to have settled in Chenango Forks, now Binghamton, N. Y.

JESSE lived at one time in Otsego Co. Later he lived in Columbus, Chenango Co., N. Y., where he died. His will, dated Nov. 19, 1816, was probated in Chenango Co. Nov. 23, 1818. It gives to his children, named in order as follows: dau. Betsey Gould; sons Jabin and Leonard S.; daus Anna, Polly, Lydia, Sarah, and the residue to his wife Lydia. Otsego Co records show that the Goolds (so spelled in will, but Gould in said records) lived in Otsego Co.

JABIN, b. July 6, 1794, m. Sally Ransom, of Middlefield, Otsego Co., July 25, 1814; d. in Mohawk, Herkimer Co., N. Y., June 13, 1876, and some of his descendants now live in that vicinity. His son, LEONARD SUTHERLAND, b. in Otsego Co. Nov. 2, 1816; m. Nancy Hawn, of Mindenville, N. Y., Aug. 12, 1847; d. in Pekin, Ill., Feb. 7, 1879. His widow and his dau. Ida lived in Chicago in Jan., 1890.

LEONARD SUTHERLAND, s. Jesse; b. in Chatham, Columbia Co., N. Y., Jan. 18, 1799; m. Lois Rumrill, of———; d. at Kinderhook, N. Y., Aug. 11, 1871. From about the age of 21 to 40 he was a minister of the Christian Church. Afterwards was in watch and jewelry trade. Children living in 1883.

HENRIETTA EMILY, who m. D. J. Dean, and was living in Adams, Mass., in 1883.

HERBERT LUTHER, b. in Kinderhook, N. Y., July 23, 1842; was living in Utica, N. Y., in 1883, and was on the editorial staff of The Observer. Married.

ANN, dau. Jesse, called Anna in her fathers's will, m. 1st, Russell Brown, of Cheshire, Mass.; m. 2d, Chester A. Jarvis, of Massalon, O. Died January 17, 1891, in the 90th year of her age, in Kinderhook, N. Y. In early life she had more than a local reputation as "Ann Rexford, the woman preacher." Her home and field of labor was in Columbia Co., N. Y.

POLLY, dau. Jesse, b. ——— m. ——— Root, of———; d. in Kinderhook about 1881.

SARAH, dau. Jesse, m. Samuel Irons, of———. About 1840 to 1845 they lived in Sherburne, N. Y. Moved to Binghamton, N. Y., where I believe he died. She was living in 1890

3 JOHN, s. (2) Arthur; b. in Wallingford, Ct., June 1, 1734; m. Bette Showers at Sharon, Ct., Aug. 27, 1754, by John Williams, Esq.

3 DANIEL, s. (2) Arthur, b. in Wallingford, Oct. 27, 1736. Oct. 15, 1761, at Sharon, Ct., m. Hannah Hopson, of Woodbury, Ct. He bought land in Sharon in 1765, sold in 1767, and the same year bought in Kent, Ct. He joined the Congregational Church in Kent in April, 1769. He bought and sold in Kent until June 5, 1777, when he made his last sale there. He had children as follows: Jordan, b. in Sharon Feb. 8, 1763; d. July 11, 1765; Samuel, Sarah, Jordan, William Hopson, Rebecca, Artemas, Polly, Roswell.

A granddaughter of (3) Daniel says: "My grandmother died in "Hartford, Washington Co., N. Y., in 1814. My grandfather had "moved to Hartford and he died in the State of Delaware while "looking for land quite a number of years before 1814 and was "buried there." I can but think it more likely that he died in Delaware Co., N. Y. He had relatives then living in Broome Co., just on the border of Delaware Co., and it seems more probable that a man looking for a new home on new land would have gone to a comparatively new region, and the more so for having relatives living there.

3 BENJAMIN, s. (2) Arthur, b. in Wallingford June 1, 1739; m. Esther Hall in Wallingford July 1, 1760. He is named in the history of Meriden, Ct., in the list of soldiers in the patriot army in the Revolutionary War. Feb. 22, 1762, Arthur, of Sharon, deeded to his son Benjamin, of Sharon, land in Sharon. April 12, 1768, Benjamin, of Wallingford, deeded to Arthur, Jr., of Sharon, "Same land I had of my honored father, Arthur Rexford."

These facts seem to show that Benjamin moved from Wallingford to Sharon and after a few years returned to Wallingford. I do not know where he died.

Wallingford records give his children as follows: Benjamin, Martha, Isaac, Thomas, Samuel, Elisha, Abraham, Benajah, Joel, Eunice, and Levi of whose birth no record is found.

- 3 ABIGAIL, dau. (2) Arthur, b. in Wallingford, Aug. 20, 1741; m. Joshua Bennett at Sharon, Ct., Sept. 26, 1765.
- 3 JEMIMA, dau. (2) Arthur, b. in Wallingford, Jan. 2, 1747. The will of (2) Arthur, dated at Sharon, July 29, 1771, gives to his daughter Jemima.
- 4 SAMUEL, s. (3) Daniel, b. in Sharon, Ct., July 28, 1765; m. Lydia Millard, of Cornwall, Ct., Nov. 6, 1788; settled early in Cornwall, and there died; was a farmer; c. Nancy, Riley Millard.
- 4 SARAH, dau. (3) Daniel, b. in Kent, Ct., Oct. 24, 1767; m. Samuel Seeley, of Stratford, Ct., Jan. 1st., 1794. In March, 1795, they moved to Hartford, Washington Co., N. Y., where she died.
- 4 JORDAN, s. (3) Daniel, b. in Kent, Nov. 2, 1769; m. first, Sallie Barber, of Marblehead, Mass., April 18, 1794; and second, Mary Tannatt, of Boston, Mass., Oct. 27, 1805. He became a Methodist itinerant minister when about 20 years old and was ordained June 19, 1809. "He purchased a horse, saddle bags, &c., for his work, "from proceeds of yield from one sheep given him by his father "when he was a boy." He preached in several places in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. He died in Woonsocket, R. I., May 5, 1840. From the inscription on his tombstone, in Woonsocket, the following is taken: "This marble is erected by the citizens of "Waterford and Woonsocket to perpetuate the memory of Rev. "Jordan Rexford, who died May 5, 1840, aged 70 years. By his "example he taught us to speak evil of no man, but to visit the "widow and fatherless in their affliction and to keep ourselves unspotted from the world." c. of first wife, Daniel, Hannah; of second wife, Charles Wesley, Alfred Tannatt, William Jordan.

(2) Phillip Rexford and his Descendants.

- 2 PHILLIP, s. (1) Arthur; b. in New Haven, Ct., June 19, 1708; m. Anna Beecher, of New Haven, April 15, 1734 by Rev. Joseph Noyes. c. Elisha, d. in infancy; second Elisha, Hezekiah. m. second, Mary Blakesley Ball, widow of John Ball, of New Haven. The records of First Congregational Society of New Haven show that "Phillip Rexford, an adult, was baptised Sept. 27, 1734." Colonial records state that in Oct. 1751, on petition signed by a large number of persons, of whom Phillip Rexford was one, which said the members of the First Society were "too numerous to meet in either of the two meeting houses of said society; said petitioners were set off from the First Society in New Haven and constituted a society by name of White Haven Society." I find no record of death of Phillip. His will is on record in probate court in New Haven, and this entry made: "In Probate Court, Sept. 22, 1779. "As all the property of Phillip Rexford belongs to his only son "Elisha, Ordered, that it is not necessary to proceed further with "administration. He may pay the debts and take the property." As the will makes no gift to Elisha of all the property, this shows that Hezekiah, brother of Elisha, had died without issue.
- 3 ELISHA, s. (2) Phillip; b. in New Haven, Oct. 24, 1737. Records of First Congregational Society say he was baptised Oct 30, 1737. In April, 1758 he was received a member of White Haven Congregational Society. In 1763 he was graduated from Yale College, and afterwards the same college conferred the A. M. degree. He m. first, Lydia Munson, of New Haven. She b in 1743 and d. March 31, 1785. c. by her, Ann Abigail, commonly called Nancy by her family. In January, 1786, he m. second, Sarah, widow of Hezekiah Tomlinson, and dau. of Joseph Lewis, of Stratford, Ct. By her he had a dau., Lydia Mary, b. in 1789, in New Stratford, now Monroe, Ct. He was a minister in the Congregational church. He is named in a list of licentiates in 1764.

Among the list of missionaries "appointed by the General Association in the year 1796, is the Rev. Elisha Rexford, whose name "marked with a star shows that he is known to have gone on a "missionary tour."

I am indebted to the Rev. Benj. L. Swan, pastor in 1881, of the Congregational church of Monroe, formerly New Stratford, and later residing in Mendham, N. J., for the following interesting matter:

"The first mention of Mr. Rexford on the records of the Society of New Stratford, now Monroe, Ct., dates from the third Monday of September, 1764, "at two o'clock of the noon," when it was tried whether the inhabitants of New Stratford should call Mr. Elisha Rexford to the work of the ministry or on probation in New Stratford; voted unanimously in the affirmative. November, 1764, voted unanimously to give Mr. Elisha Rexford a settlement of two hundred pounds, lawful money, to be paid within four years, at fifty pounds each year, and during the four years to give Mr. Rexford, as a salary, sixty pounds like money, and at the end of four years to give him seventy-five pounds like money, annually, so long as Mr. Rexford shall continue in the work of the ministry with this people. December 6, 1764, voted that the Society will call the Association to form a church in said Society on the 18th of December, instant, and to keep a day of public fast on the 19th day of said December."

At a meeting on Wednesday, December 26, 1764, Mr. Rexford's answer to the call given him was received and read, viz: "December 26, 1764. My fathers and brethren: Having taken into serious consideration the invitation that you have given me to settle in the work of the ministry, and the offer that you have made for my support in the same, together with the unanimity and good agreement with which both are done by you, on the whole I conclude that it is my duty to give you an affirmative answer, declaring that I accept of your invitation and the offers which you have made for my support, wishing, if God, in the course of His Providence, should bring us into the near relation of minister and people, that we may be all of one mind, endeavoring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace, that so the God of love and peace may dwell in and with us."

The Society then voted the ordination should take place on Wednesday, Jan. 9, 1765. The pastoral work of Mr. Rexford in New Stratford church went on quietly until March, 1808, (forty-three years and two months) when in a letter preserved in the records of the Ecclesiastical Society he acknowledges a settlement in full of all dues from the Society to him up to the 9th day of April next, and adds: "Whereas, I am now, by reason of bodily infirmity, and in the wise and overruling Hand of Providence unable to preach and perform other duties expected from a minister to his people—and there is the strongest probability that I shall never hereafter be able to perform those duties—I do hereby relinquish to said Society all such right as I may have by virtue of any contract heretofore made between me and said Society from and after said 9th day of April next, so long as I live."

On the 3d day of April, 1808, he died. Mr. Rexford married 2d, Sarah, widow of Hezekiah Tomlinson, of Stratford. She was daughter of Joseph and Sarah Blackleach Lewis. In October, 1740, Whitfield, passing from New Haven to New York, preached on Monday afternoon, October —, in Stratford. Several were powerfully affected, among whom were Anne Greenman, aged 14 years, and Sarah Blackleach, aged about 14 years, each of whom fell into a trance that lasted several days. As a means towards restoration, in the case of the latter, she was brought on Sabbath in an arm chair into the meeting house and sat in the broad aisle while prayer was made in her behalf.

The house built by Mr. Rexford about 1770, and occupied by him till his death, is still standing in good condition. "It contains in its northeast ground floor room a carefully concealed trap door which opens into a tight-built compartment below, as large as the room above, and designed for hurried concealment of valuables, plate, clothing, furniture, etc., during the perilous years of the Revolution. There are portraits in oil of Mr. Rexford and his second wife, taken in 1799, now hanging in the study of the pastor of the church to which he ministered during his whole ministerial life. They were presented to the church by his daughter, Lydia Mary Rexford, at her decease."

- 3 HEZEKIAH, s. (2) Phillip; b. in New Haven, Ct., October 9, 1742. See record of his father to prove he must have died without issue.

- 4 ANN ABIGAIL, dau. (3) Elisha; b. in New Stratford, Ct.; m. Abijah Fenn May 19, 1793. One account says they moved to Baltimore, Md. Another says they moved west, as is supposed, to the Western Reserve in Ohio. Nothing is known of them since that time.
- 4 LYDIA MARY, dau. (3) Elisha; b. in New Stratford, ———, 1789; d. in New Stratford, now Monroe, Jan. 18, 1869, at 80 years of age. Unmarried. The line of Phillip here comes to an end, unless there are descendants of his dau., Ann Abigail, m. to Abijah Fenn, as mentioned above.

- 2 DANIEL, s. (1) Arthur; b. in New Haven, Ct., May 27, 1711; m. Desire ———, of ———; d. in Barkhamstead, Ct., Jan 12, 1799. c. Sarah, Daniel, Betsey, William, Joel. He was a farmer and lived a few miles outside of present New Haven; probably about five miles. Deeds to and from him are recorded in New Haven of dates from 1734 to April 16, 1777. In these, New Haven is given as his residence. He moved to Barkhamstead in January, 1777. In colonial records he is named as one of those who in 1739, petitioned the First Parish or Society of New Haven "to be "annexed to the Parish of New Cheshire in town of Wallingford; "on account of their distance from New Haven Parish."

Records of Mt. Carmel Congregational Society show that he and his son Daniel were members thereof in 1767.

- 3 SARAH, dau. (2) Daniel; b. in New Haven; m. Ezekiel Tuttle, both of New Haven, Jan. 16, 1760, by Caleb Merriman, J. P. They moved to Blandford, Mass., where Mr. Tuttle was killed by a falling tree. Subsequently his widow, with her children, going with or following her brothers, William and Joel, moved to then Herkimer Co., N. Y., and settled in what is now Brookfield, Madison Co., (her brothers settling in townships not far distant), where she d. Sep. 10, 1812.

As a picture of the frugal and toilsome life of the early settlers of any country, and to remind us of our great debt of reverence and gratitude to them, I copy from an interesting letter written by Almon L. Tuttle, grandson of Melicu Tuttle, who was a son of Ezekiel and Sarah, b. in New Haven, Ct., June 18, 1775:

"Grandfather was one of the pioneers of Columbus, the North-east "corner town of Chenango Co. After making an opening for a "home he went back to Massachusetts for his wife. Her entire "outfit they brought tied up in a single pocket handkerchief. Of "course they were poor, and in the early days it was a struggle to "keep the literal wolf of the forest and the figurative one of hun“ger from the door. Consequently they acquired not only habits

“of industry, but hard, unrelenting toil, not seeming to have time “to record or orally to communicate much concerning their ances“try to their children.”

3 BETSY, dau. (2) Daniel; b. in New Haven, Ct., ———; m. Amaziah Allen,———. They moved in the last decade of the last century to what is now Smyrna, N. Y., where they are said to have both died. They had a son Hopestill, who moved to Geauga Co., O., about 1820. I have sought diligently for further information of this family without avail. I have some doubt about the name Betsey, as one correspondent says Roxana and another says Lydia instead of Betsey. But the name Betsey has superior authority.

3 DANIEL, s. (2) Daniel; b. in New Haven, ———, 1742; m. Martha Hitchcock, in New Haven, Sept. 9, 1766, by Rev. Chauncey Whitelsey. c. by her, Jared, Joel, Milly. m. second, Sarah Alling, dau. of Nathan Alling, of New Haven, Feb. 23, 1775. c. by her, Benjamin, Zina, Micha, Sarah, John, Martha, Alling. He d. in Barkhamstead, Ct., July 28, 1793, “in the 52d year of his age.” His wife Sarah, d. in B. Feb. 1837, aged 91 years. This is found on his tombstone in Barkhamstead Cemetery:

“ His time was come and he must die:
“ Here in the dust his body lie:
“ His soul has gone, we hope and trust,
“ To reign with Christ among the just.”

Daniel and his wife Martha were admitted to the First Church, New Haven, Oct. 25, 1767, he being then baptized. Subsequently they were dismissed and recommended to the church at Mt. Carmel, of which they became members in July, 1768. On the 12th or 13th of January, 1777, he moved to Barkhamstead, where his brothers, William and Joel, had already gone, as is shown by recorded deeds. The family tradition says, that at Barkhamstead, the three brothers were farmers with joint interests. They were also partners in mercantile business with a Mr. Miller, who had charge thereof. He (Miller) defrauded his partners and left the country. This made a change in the condition of the brothers, followed by a breaking up of the family. Daniel remained with their father on the Barkhamstead farm and William and Joel moved to the new west. William bought land in what is now Lebanon, Madison Co., N. Y., and Simeon, son of Joel, bought a family home in what is now Smyrna, Chenango Co., only a few miles distant from his uncle William.

- 3 WILLIAM, s. (2) Daniel; b. in New Haven Jan. 18, 1746; m. Dennis Sperry, in New Haven. A granddaughter of (3) William says her grandmother's maiden name was Sarah Dennis Sperry. I find her name in recorded deeds in Barkhamstead "Dennis Rexford." They moved to Barkhamstead probably between 1770 and 1775. In 1795 he moved to the present Lebanon, Madison Co., N. Y., where he died June 5, 1827. Was a farmer. c. William, Betsey, Leverett.
- 3 JOEL, s. (2) Daniel; b. in New Haven ———, 1750 or '51; m. Rhoda Spencer ———. Moved to Barkhamstead about 1770 to 1775, thence in 1795 he moved to the present Smyrna, Chenango Co., N. Y., where he died "March 22, 1821, aged 70 years." Was a farmer. c. Simeon, Lyman Spencer, Mary. His son Simeon had bought a farm lot and built a house in 1794 for the family.

Daniel Alling (d. in infancy), Fanny Lincoln, Mary Nelson. After several years of clerkship he embarked in mercantile business in Sherburne in the spring of 1836. Two years later he moved to Maryland, having an interest in a work of construction on the Delaware and Ohio Canal. After the completion of this work, in December, 1839, he returned to Sherburne, where he soon became interested with Joshua Pratt, Sr, in the business of canal storage and transportation to and from New York and Binghamton. After a few years Mr. Pratt retired from the business and a new firm was organized, the members being Joshua Pratt, Jr., D. A. Rexford and his brother, S. B. Rexford. In the spring of 1842 he went to New York to act as agent there of the "Chenango Lake Boat Line," and so continued until 1852, when ill health compelled his retirement from business.

This completes the record I have been able to make of the known descendants of (1) Arthur.

REASONS FOR BELIEVING THE REXFORDS HEREINAFTER MENTIONED ARE DESCENDANTS OF (1) ARTHUR.

In the course of ten years' careful research, I have found no Rexford, besides (1) Arthur, who is known to have come to the United States from any foreign country, previous to the last thirty years. From no one of the families hereinafter noticed have I been able to obtain any account of their ancestry other than that given. The previous pages of this book contain records of all the descendants of (2) Phillip and (2) Daniel. I have given a list of the children of (2) Arthur, the sons being Samuel, Arthur, Joseph, John, Daniel, Benjamin.

I have given a record of the descendants of Daniel and Benjamin, and an imperfect one of those of Joseph. This leaves the descendants of Samuel, Arthur, John, and a part of those of Joseph, unaccounted for. From this it will be seen that there is sufficient original stock opportunity for finding in (1) Arthur the ancestor of these families whose lines are not established. Besides, there are frequently found among them names that are common among the known descendants of (1) Arthur, and they have similar traditions concerning their ancestry.

A strong presumption, in support of my belief in a common ancestry, is found in the fact that at the time when the first known ancestor of these families are said to have made settlements in the State of New York, there was a widespread spirit of emigration from the older sections to new and cheaper lands lying to the north and west of New England. The earlier pages of this book show that in that period many Rexford families moved from Connecticut to Canada and the States of Vermont, New York and Pennsylvania. The time was in the last decade of the last century and the first one of the present century.

To show the degree of relationship to each other, of those whose names occur in the following pages, the head of each family is marked (1), and his descendants are numbered according to their succeeding generation. It should be borne in mind that these numbers have no relation to those found on the preceding pages.

(1) Samuel Rexford and his Descendants,

WHO SETTLED IN BROOME CO., N. Y., ABOUT 1790.

- 1 SAMUEL, s. ———; b. Oct. 12, 1750, ———; m. Sarah Andrus, of ———, 1770. She was born July 14, 1754. Soon after marriage they settled in Claverack, Columbia Co., N. Y. About 1790 they moved to what is now Windsor. Broome Co., N. Y., where he d. Aug. 24, 1816. His wife d. April 24, 1820. c. Rhoda, Levi d. in infancy; Susanna, Samuel, Sarah, Enos d. when two years old; Theodore Andrus, Enos Benton, George, Mary, Peter Sylvester, Clara, Abigail. He was a mechanic. A grandson says he was a Captain in the Revolutionary Army. The widow of Peter Sylvester wrote me: "My husband's father had a brother named Edward, I think, who had a large family; several boys I believe." A grandson of Samuel says. "Samuel lived in Canaan or Lebanon, Ct. I think he had a brother Edward." Edward, who settled in Saratoga Co., at about the same time that Samuel settled in Broome Co., and whose record is given hereafter, had at least four children, three of whom were sons.

Descendants of Joseph, who moved to Austerlitz, Columbia, Co., N. Y., in 1786, (see page 7), say "Joseph had brothers, Samuel, Lyman, Edward and William."

A grandson of Samuel wrote me he thought his grandfather came to Jefferson Co. from near Bennington, Vt. A granddaughter has written, "One of my relatives told me they all came from near Bennington or Burlington, Vt." She also said, "I have heard my grandmother tell of the Green Mountains and of Connecticut. Grandfather was a soldier in the Revolution for seven years. He had a pension." A great grandson of Samuel has written me, "My father remembers hearing that the founder of the family was an English sea captain." Also, "There seems to have been a tradition of an Arthur who came from England." Also, "My father thinks the father of (1) Samuel was also named Samuel." If that was his name he must have been the Samuel mentioned on page 7, who with his wife, united with the church in Meriden, Ct., in 1750. These traditions and statements concerning (1) Samuel almost absolutely establish his descent from (1) Arthur.

INFORMATION AND SPECULATION CONCERNING THE ANCESTRAL HOME OF THE REXFORDS AND THE ORIGIN OF THE NAME.

I presume that many who have the name "Rexford" are curious to know its origin and the ancestral home of the family. In the branch to which I belong there is a tradition that the Rexfords came to England from Normandy, and I have found the same belief in other branches. As to the location in England of the Rexfords, whenever mentioned, it is in some such terms as these: "In Wales" or "in the West of England, near the border of Wales." From various sources I have learned that the name is now found in Wales and in the contiguous parts of England.

In 1882 there was living in Philadelphia one R. W. Rexford. By correspondence with him I learned that his father, Richard W. Rexford, M. D., was born in Plymouth, Devon, England, in 1802; that he came to the United States, with his family, and settled in Cambridge, Mass., where he died about 1873, leaving a wife and two children, namely, R. W. and Mary. The father of Richard W., senior, who was a druggist, died in Plymouth in 1820. His name was William and he had a brother John, who moved to Newfoundland in the last century. Their father was Rector of Dartington, Devon.

Thinking it possible that I might find the above John to have been the ancestor of some of the families that are not positively known to have descended from (1) Arthur, I sought in Newfoundland for information of him and his descendants. By the kind and efficient aid of Rev. Moses' Harvey, of St. Johns, and by means of newspaper advertising, my efforts were successful. I learned that John Rexford came from Plymouth, England, between 1776 and 1786, and died 90 years old; that he left two children, one of whom lived to be 90 years old and the other to a greater age. He is said to have been a "sturdy Englishman." His descendants, being a number of families, now live at Job's Cove, near Lower Island Cove, in Newfoundland. The present heads of families are said to be fishermen in humble circumstances.

For some reason their name has changed to Rixon. Mr. Harvey writes: "The corruption of old English names is very common here."

One of my sons once met an Englishman who informed him that there is a station called Rexford on a railroad west of Plymouth, Devonshire.

The following is taken from the memorandum book of my deceased brother, Daniel A., who was in business in New York City in 1846:

"Sept. 7, 1846, Mrs. Betterton and daughter were in my office (English ladies). Miss Betterton, a few years since, spent some months in Newport, Monmouthshire, which is in Wales, in the west of England. About twenty miles from there, in Merthyn Tiddvil, she saw a sign 'Rexford & Co.' Thinks they were Iron Masters. She says Rexford is a common name in Wales."

From at least two other sources than those above mentioned, I have learned that there are now Rexfords living in the west of England.

In 1887, I found living in Eau Claire, Wis., one Peder Rexford. He wrote me that he was born in Norway in 1840; came to America in 1872; first settled in Mankato, Minn., and in 1879 moved to Eau Claire. His name in Norway was Rexfjord, and after he came to this country he found it convenient to drop the "j." He was born on a farm named Rexfjord, and his ancestors, so far back as he knows, were called Rexfjord. I obtained from him the name of the Lutheran minister of the parish in which he was born, to whom I wrote, asking for such information in the premises as he could give. His answer follows:

Akero pr Molde, 31 January, 1890.

Mr. J. D. Rexford: I received your letter a month ago. Here I give the result of my research relating to the genealogy of your family—Rexford—remarking that I am quite without exercise in writing English.

First, a few words about the situation of the farm Rexfjord. A part of the west coast of Norway is called Romsdale, annually visited and admired by a great number of foreign travelers for the splendid prospects to the surrounding mountains. Coming from north we pass to right at the entrance to Romsdalefjord, an isle Gorsen, some twenty miles in circumference, with several creeks. The isle, almost plane, was formerly forested; is now heathy. The forest was burned as hiding robbers. Gorsen, or Gorsoy, which means an isle belonging to King Gor, or where Gor resided, has, in the old ages, been an exquisite place for settling and maratimal affairs. In this isle, next to the farm Aukra, where I now live, is the required farm, Rexfjord, situated.

Rexfjord is declining meridionally to a small bay, Rexfjord vaag; vaag, (aa is to be pronounced as a in was,) the same as small bay or creek; so the farm has given name to this bay. But in the farm there is a little lake, from which probably the "fjord." Fjord in Norwegian usually means bay, and sometimes lake, wading place, ford. There is also a spring from which a little stream. If this stream formerly, were called Rexa, as one of the inhabitants will have it, we have not to make further research for the origin of the prefix. The prefix Rex rather seems to be breviature of the old Norwegian rikis, (casus genitivus of riki, i. e. might, potency, kingdom,) to riks, pronounced rex. May be that the farm once were residence for a king or a man of great influence. In old Norwegian we also find the adjective, rike, i. e. rich, mighty: cas, gen, riks, pronounced rex; and we find the substantive rekke, i. e. hero; cas, gen, rekks, pronounced rex.

If your ancestors were of Norwegian origin, it is probable in the highest degree that Rexfjord in Gorsoy were their first domicile. As far as I know, this name is not used elsewhere in Norway. A man of my acquaintance, living about fifty miles from here, has for this tract a nominal list of estate from the middle ages. I should like to see it. I think the original orthography of Rexfjord there may be found. The now inhabitants of Rexfjord are of no interest for your genealogy. Their ancestors moved, in last century, hither from Sogn, two hundred miles longer south, and I am not able to find out anything about the owners before that time. In the future I will give attention to what more I may find of genealogical information and communicate it in due time.

Most respectfully yours,

ALF. BAARTVEIT.

I presume it will occur to others, as it has most forcibly to me, that the prevalent tradition of a Norman ancestry, and this interesting information of the existence of the name in Norway and its natural origin there, furnish strong evidence that the first Rexfords were Northmen; and that they were members of some one of the many predatory bands, which ravaged the Southern coast of England and the Northern coast of France in the 9th and 10th centuries. They finally made a settlement in France, giving to the territory occupied by them, its name of Normandy, i. e., the land of the Norsemen, or Northmen.

The Rexfjords would soon find it convenient to drop the "j," as did Peder Rexfjord. In connection with the suggestion that the prefix "Rex" may be derived from the word "riks," pronounced "Rex," it is of interest to notice that there are several families of Rixfords in this country. All of them, with whom I have corresponded, either live in or had their origin in the New England States. It may be that we have a common origin, the Rixfords retaining the original spelling and the Rexfords the original pronunciation.

Since I received the letter from Pastor Baartveit, an acquaintance, who is a native of Christiania in Norway, and now a resident of Janesville, Wis., has told me that, in his native city, he has seen the name Rexfjord on the signs of several business houses.

EXPLANATION.

The figures in parenthesis at the left of a name, and the figure without parenthesis at the left of names in the margin, indicates the generation of the individual, counting as generation (1), Arthur, first mentioned. The names of those descendants of (1) Arthur whose generation is not known, have no figure at the left. See page 55 for explanation of figures in the case of persons not proven to be descendants of (1) Arthur.

Marginal names in each generation are listed according to priority in the line of descent.

- b. stands for born.
- c stands for child or children.
- d. stands for died.
- m. stands for married.
- s. stands for son.

I WISH TO MAKE A COMPLETE GENEALOGICAL RECORD —OF THE— REXFORDS,

From the earliest date of their residence in this country.

I publish this partial result of my efforts, and shall send it to all of the Name, whose address I know, with the earnest request that they will aid me, by sending to me information of the same character, as complete as possible, in respect to their own families and near kindred. I would like to give the last known residence of each person mentioned. I do not ask for information of children not born to the Rexford name; that is of children of Rexford born females.

My plans go no further than the preparation and publication of a simple genealogical record with dates and places of births, marriages and deaths. Nevertheless, I shall be more than willing to be made the custodian, for the use of some future Rexford historian, of other facts and incidents which any may commit to me, such as occupation, whether farmer, mechanic, merchant, clergyman, lawyer, physician, banker, teacher, or other vocation. Also the fact and date of graduation from a collegiate institution, the filling of any position of trust, political or otherwise, any marked traits of character, or incidents in the life that have special interest. I would be pleased to learn the dates of removal from one place to another.

I invite correction of errors and filling of blanks found in the subsequent pages. It will help me if all given names are written in full. The earliest record I have found, is of

ARTHUR REXFORD. He was a native of England,— was a mariner and master of the Sloop Rose. He traded between the West India Islands, and the New England Colonies. On the 3d day of September, 1702, he married Elizabeth Stevens in New Haven,
Conn. He died in New Haven. February 1st,
172 $\frac{1}{8}$ Children, Arthur, Sarah, Philip and Daniel.

ARTHUR was born in New Haven. July 13th, 1703.

I find he resided in Meriden, Conn., from 1728 to 1741, and had children as follows :

Samuel, born March 21, 1728.

Arthur, “ May 4, 1730.

Abigail. “ Aug. 20, 1741.

To the present time, I have failed to find records connecting the children of the second Arthur with those whom I believe to be descended from them.

SARAH was born in New Haven, September 6th, 1705.

I have no further knowledge of her.

PHILIP was born in New Haven, June 19th, 1708.

He married Anna Beecher, of New Haven, April 15th, 1734 ; children.

Elisha born in New Haven, January 9th, 1735.

Elisha “ “ “ “ October 24th, 1737.

Hezekiah “ “ “ “ October 9th, 1742.

Elisha was executor of the will of his father Philip,
and in the record of proceedings in the Probate Court it is said “Elisha is the only son of Philip.”

Elisha died at Monroe, Conn., April 7th, 1808, leaving a daughter Mary who died a few years ago.

DANIEL was born in New Haven, May 27th, 1711.

He moved to Barkhamstead, Conn., about 1776 where he died January 12th, 1799 ; children, Daniel, William and Joel.

In the last years of the last century, William and Joel moved the first to Madison Co., the last, to Chenango Co., New York where they died. I have been able to this time to get but little information of William's descendants. I think their number is small. I shall soon have complete data for a record of Joel's descendants, who are less numerous than the descendants of Daniel, a record of whom follows.

I have a mass of disconnected records of other Rexfords living in almost every state from Rhode Island to California, and in Canada. I am not yet certain, whether they are descendants of the first Arthur, through his son Arthur, or of another stock. The similarity of names favor the first hypothesis. I have confident hopes that I shall be able to connect these fragmentary records so as to present a complete table from the earliest date.
